CBSM

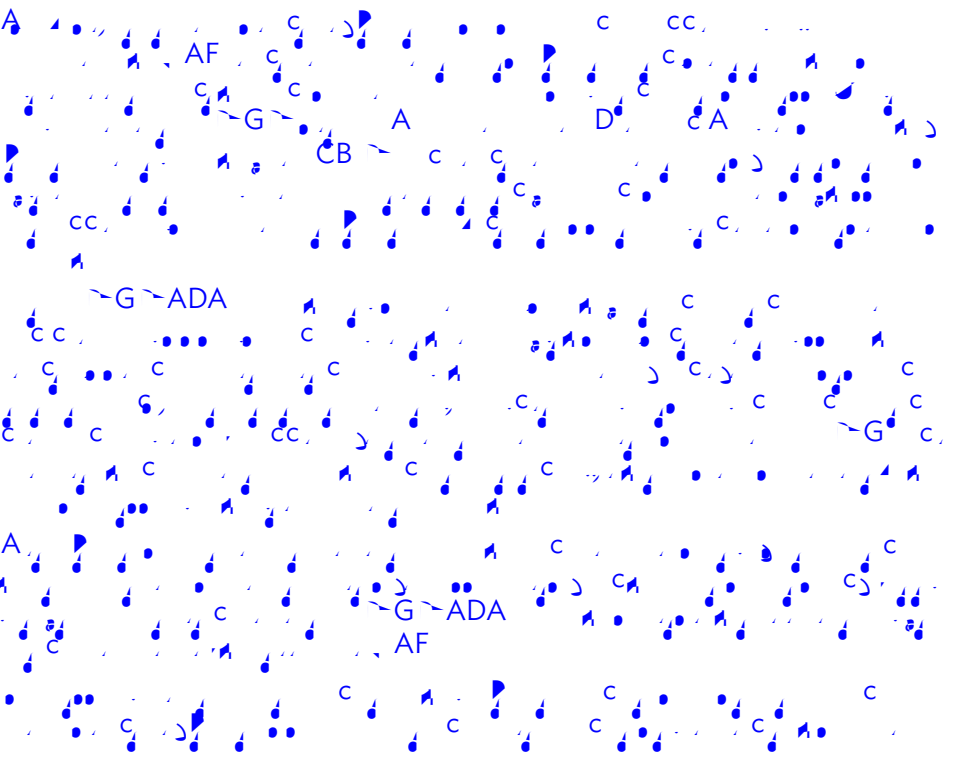

The most rewarding part of CBSM has been the classes I love being a part of the student organizations because I feel I belong in a group of people that are on similar academic paths. It is great to have that support from others who are also in our major.

Maintaining balance doesn't always work, so sometimes I have to say no to certain obligations. It's really important to take care of myself, my health, and my family, which is everthing to me. But at the end of the day, it all works itself out, and I'm incredibly lucky to be able to do what I love.
