COURSE DESCRIPTION

Catalog description

Social science concepts applied to survey-based human dimensions research. Survey research methods including operationalizing research questions into measurable variables, designing survey instruments, assessing reliability and validity, developing a sampling plan, data management, data analysis, and reporting results.

Additional course description

Social science surveys can be a valuable tprinciples of survey design and analysis; latied appelication on natural resource

COURSE GOALS

The course will provide students with knowledge of the following topics:

How survey research can support management decisions

Social psychology topics most often applied in natural resource management

Defining study objectives and identifying and integrating social science concepts most applicable to study concepts

Developing a quantitative survey instrument to measure research questions/hypotheses

Assessing the reliability of a survey and validity of results

Steps to progress from raw survey data to data analysis

Basic statistical analysis in SPSS

Documenting results in a report

Institutional Review Board

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

Upon successful completion of this course, the students will have the skills to:

Evaluate survey-based research projects to determine whether the methods utilized resulted in study objectives being met.

Complete all phases of a survey-based research project, including developing study objectives, selecting the most appropriate survey method and developing the questionnaire, coding data and conducting statistical analysis, and documenting results.

Present results in an appropriate format (e.g., APA, The Chicago Manual of Style).

COURSE READINGS/MATERIALS

Required text: Vaske, J. J. (2019). Survey research and analysis: Applications in parks, recreation and human dimensions, 2nd. State College, PA: Venture Publishing.

Additional readings will be assigned, and are noted in the class schedule. These readings will be posted to Canvas.

TECHNICAL REQUIREMENTS FOR COURSE

Students must have regular access to a computer and the Internet to access materials in Canvas. Students will be expected to download course material as well as upload assignments.

Lab sessions will use the software po(e.9(w)-3.4Da)10.6(m)-64(326, 4s)-17,Th-17,Thleft in2(o(e.h-17,Thle)2.9(w)-3.4(ao7
