We will be doing a writer's workshop on each of your papers to review, evaluate, and improve the writing. Within a writer's workshop session, student papers are discussed by a group of people including the author. During the workshop, the reviewers examine the strengths and weaknesses of each paper, accentuating positive aspects and suggesting improvements in content and style.

Although the author is present, she or he remains ``invisible" during most of the discussion. The author is expected to take notes during the discussion. Many reviewers also give their marked-up copy of the paper to the authors with further written comments. These comments are intended to help the author improve the paper, but the author is not obliged to follow all the suggestions. The process normally takes about half an hour per paper.

Most writing can be improved; it can benefit from the sensibilities and experiences of others, but human nature often improperly equates imperfection in a creation with the imperfection of its creator. To avoid this, it is the responsibility of the reviewers to ensure the atmosphere of the workshop is constructive and conducive to insightful discussions, rather than having people show off their intellect by attacking other people. Moreover, it's very important to stress positive aspects of the paper before presenting constructive criticisms.

Papers are discussed according to the following format (which is frequently used by publishing houses when reviewing an author's book manuscript):

- 1. The Author Reads a Paragraph
 The author of a paper reads a paragraph of his/her choice. The goal is to let the author express what he or she feels is particularly important about the work.
- 2. Author Becomes a "Fly on the Wall" Following this reading, the author becomes a "fly on the wall." They listen, but
