Next Meeting

The next Master Plan Committee meeting will be May 2012 9 am t 11 am in IARC 417. Aside from the standard agenda items, up for discussion/action will be:

1. Proposed location of the new NSF dish. The North Campus Subcommittee will be considering the issue the day before our meeting, so our actions will most likely be predicated on their review and recommendations.
2. Jonathan Shambare, DD&C, will make a presentation on the round design for Lower/East Campus. Although MPC will not be making any recommendation on a preferred option at this meeting, it will be important to see and understand the pros and cons of the three options currently on the table.
3. Jenny Campbell, DD&C, will present the latest plans for the P3 project dining and housing.
4. Community garden: an update on the community garden will be provided. (this had been proposed for a location just west of CCHRC and east of Thompson Drive).

Rural Affairs Committee Report for May SC Meeting

Committee Chair: Brad Krick

The Rural Affairs Committee met on May 2 and primarily discussed Staff Appreciation Day events and the Staff Make Students Count award.

We discussed if rural staff could help on eLive sessions for Staff Appreciation Day. We also discussed if campus and other sites that had been given money for events were using it. Brad said that he would follow up with the SD committee on both counts.

The committee was asked to discuss if there was enough focus on the Staff Make Students Count award, since there were a very short length of time to submit nominations was too short. This year and last year, nominations were open for about 10 to 14 days. However, in 2010, nominations were open for seven weeks. More time would have allowed nominators to assemble the necessary letters and either nominate more staff or nominate someone at all.

We also discussed that there might be a feeling on the part of rural campuses that they are less likely to be considered for the award, which might lead to fewer nominations overall. We wondered if there might be a sense that rural staff already have recognition with the Peggy Wood Awards. We noticed that of the UAF winners since the award started, one winner was at CTC and the rest were at the Fairbanks campus, with one Fairbanks campus employee in Anchorage (there are a few bios without campus locations though).

It was also suggested that perhaps the award could be improved by finding a way to recognize the nominees as well as the winners. Brad summarized this information and passed it along to Juella Sparks
